FIRST DAY USAGE - HANDMADE CACHETS

In contrast to cachets that are typed, rubber stamped, or mechanically printed, a handmade cachet is painted or drawn directly on a cover by the designer. Although each artist's handmade cachets are essentially alike, slight design variations are the norm. The intent for the following pages is to provide images of the design varieties from each of the artists thus far identified as creators of handmade cachets for this issue. Collectors with covers bearing cachets from these and other artists are urged to submit images for inclusion in the handbook.
